

REBELLION INCREASES IN VARIOUS MEXICAN STATES

TLES FOLLOW.

SENATORS IN PROTEST

United States Will Do Its Best to Protect Residents Along the Mexican Border by Keeping Rigid Patrol.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 26.—Conditions in the north and central sections of Mexico are reported today not so satisfactory. A report from Saltillo indicates that the governor of Coahuila has gone to resist federal troops approaching from Monterrey. Reports from that city say that the situation is less encouraging in northern states,
and the rebels are active in Sonora, Coahuila and San Luis Potosi.

Assures Senators.
Secretary Stimson today assured Senators Cullison and Sheppard that every possible precaution would be taken to protect the Texas border
against raids by rebels from Mexico.
In a letter to Senator Sheppard, Mr.
Stimson said:

Maintain Guard.
"It is not intended to withdraw any of the cavalry on the Texas border,
but on the contrary every precaution
will be taken to maintain an effective guard there. Of course it must be remembered that the regular army is relatively small and when it becomes necessary, as it is now, to mobilize a force of ten or fifteen thousand men
for the purpose of preparing an expedition to go out of the country it leaves very few troops within the United States available for patrol duties. One has to cut his suit according to the amount of cloth he has,
and that is the only limit to our efforts to protect our border."

Up to Senate.
Later Senator Sheppard laid
the situation before the senate committee on foreign relations. Accepting the view that the Texas-Mexican line was insufficiently guarded the committee agreed to make representations to the secretary of war, urging a stronger force along the line.

Sharp Fighting.
Douglas, Ariz., Feb. 26.—An attempt to disarm former Mexican volunteers
early today at Agua Prieta resulted in a sharp skirmish in the darkness before dawn. Most of the volunteers escaped to this side, leaving their arms. Quiet was restored.

Deny Rebellion.
San Diego, Calif., Feb. 26.—Danger of rebellion anywhere in lower California was denied today by Mexican Consul Gomez.

Has Big Insurance.
Vera Cruz, Mex., Feb. 26.—It was learned here today that Senora Madero, widow of the late president, holds life insurance policies amounting to several hundred thousand dollars, taken out with American companies.

Change in Command.
Vera Cruz, Mexico, Feb. 26.—Reports involving the sincerity of the expression of the loyalty made to the new administration by General Volasko, military commander at Vera Cruz, were sent to provisional President Huerta today. The charges were expected to result in an immediate change in the military command here.
It is anticipated that Colonel Jose Diaz Ordaz, who was an adherent of Felix Diaz at the time of his first revolt here will be named as successor to General Volasko who will be transferred to one of the posts in the interior.

Balance in Treasury.
Mexico City, Feb. 26.—The departure from Mexico of Ernest Madero, former minister of the finance, was followed by a hurried counting of the cash in the government treasury which showed a balance of $29,000.
This amount, however, does not represent all of the immediate available resources of the new administration as there are various deposits in both local and foreign banks which can be drawn on by the government.

Chicago Troops Leave.
Chicago, Feb. 26.—The Twenty-seventh Infantry is at last enroute to Galveston the first of four trains leaving Fort Sheridan at 12:45 this morning. The last train left at 4:30. A portion of the 15th cavalry was left at the post to put affairs there in shape for what the men think may be a long absence and these expect to get away by Saturday.

Major General Carter, who will command all the troops sent into Texas
left Chicago at 5:30 last night accompanied by his staff.

Interference Unlikely.
Washington, Feb. 26.—With the prospect of armed opposition to the new provisional government in Mexico reduced to a few small uprisings by followers of the late President Madoero it is the opinion of administration officials here that chance for the use of military arms to protect American interests have been greatly dimished.
The concentration of the troops at Galveston will continue but admittedly the purpose now is principally to test the working of the new system of the army re-organization.

Major General Carter, commander of the second division due to arrive at Galveston within the next twenty-four hours will take the opportunity offered to test the complete division of troops to put them through their paces thus aggrading the various regimental and brigade commanders practically their first opportunity to direct the movement of a large body of men that would fall to their command
in time of war.

If the complete division is assembled in Galveston at Texas City, about seven miles distant and in the camp

just opened near Houston before the end of the present week the military experts feel they will have accomplished a creditable feat. It is true that the movement appears to be very slow in comparison with the remarkable mobilization of the allied armies
in the Balkans, but as a matter of fact such distances as that from Fort D.
A. Russell, Wyoming, and Fort Snelling, Minnesota, to Galveston would have greatly taxed the resources of the best European quartermaster department.

On the whole, Secretary Stimson feels very proud of the record made up to this point when by the issue of a single order to Major General Carter, the second division commander,
the entire body of men was set in motion, whereas under the old plan the adjutant general's department was obliged to send hundreds of telegrams
to as many individual commanding officers, all the way from major generals down to a captain, to begin the mobilization.

Under the new system, too, the quartermaster general already had assembled at the proper point of em-barcation all the supplies needed for a campaign.

SHARP ARRAIGNMENT
OF MRS. PANKHURST

Prosecutor of English Suffragette
Leader Reads Extracts From Her Speeches to Show Her Unscrupulous Methods.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Epsom, England, Feb. 26.—Mrs.
Emeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette leader, was committed to trial by the police magistrate here today on the charge of inciting persons to commit malicious damage to property. The court house was ablaze with the suffragette colors and almost every seat was occupied by militant suffragists when the magistrate took his seat. The prosecutor, a special officer sent from London by the treasury department, declared that Mrs.
Pankhurst was a self-confessed accessory to the explosion which destroyed Chancellor Lloyd George's country house.

"A more abominable and cruel outrage probably never has been conceived," he urged, and continued by reading long extracts from Mrs. Pank-hurst's speeches as evidence that she had been "sediciously" plotting and conspiring to commit outrages on property and persons, with the avowed object of over-awing the public and rendering the lives of prominent men intolerable."

Among extracts was one in which
Mrs. Pankhurst called for volunteers
"to take part in a gallant onslaught with me." Another said, "short of taking lives we are warranted in using all the methods employed in times of war." A third read: "We are obliged to strike the enemy, the government, through other people.
That is always necessary to revolutionary warfare."

At another meeting she predicted
an exciting civil war. While at Cardiff she declared "We have blown up the Chancellor's house." Mrs. Pankhurst did not offer any defense today, reserving it for the trial at the Assizes.

BULGARIANS CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY OF KING
[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 26.—The national enthusiasm consequent upon the success of Bulgarian arms in the war against the Turks was given vent today on the occasion of the celebration of King Ferdinand's fifty-second birthday anniversary. Never before has the anniversary been so generally observed. In the capital, all classes kept the holiday. Flags were raised on all public buildings and pictures of the royal family and of the prominent Bulgarian commanders in the war were displayed in the windows of shops and private residences throughout the city.

SUFFRAGIST ARMY RESUMES MARCH ON WASHINGTON
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Baltimore, Feb. 26.—After a two days' stay in this city devoted mainly to rest and recuperation the suffragist "army" of the Hudson this morning resumed its march on Washington.
The recruits from Baltimore
had augmented the ranks, but all except four of the local contingent deserted when the city limits about four miles from the start were reached. The departure of the pilgrims from their headquarters in Mt. Vernon Square was witnessed by a large crowd.

NEW ZEALAND SUFFERS SEVERE EARTHQUAKE SHOCK

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Wellington, New Zealand, Feb. 26.
—With a report as of artillery discharged, a heavy earthquake shocked
this city today terrorizing inhabitants, shaking down chimneys and damaging many houses. Nobody was killed.

WOULD EXTEND PARCEL POST SYSTEM VERY EXTENSIVELY
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 26.—Extension of the special delivery system to apply to all parcels post mail will be ordered today by Postmaster General Hitchcock, effective March 1.

CANADIAN GOVERNMENT WILL PROSECUTE THE SEARCH
Washington, Feb. 26.—The National Geographic Society today formally requested in favor of the Canadian government its claim to financing the forthcoming four years Arctic expedition of Vilhjalmur Stefansson, discoverer of a race of blonde Eskimos.

CASTRO IS CHEERED
BY CUBAN POPULACE

Former Venezuelan President Given
An Ovation on His Arrival in Cuba Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Havana, Cuba, Feb. 26.—General
Cipriano Castro, former dictator of Venezuela, arrived here today on board the steamer Saratoga from New York and was greeted enthusiastically by the populace. No opposition was offered to his landing. The immigration officials afforded him all possible facilities.

A flotilla of tugs and launches crowded with people went out to meet the Saratoga off Morro Castle and accompanied her to her anchorage. On board one tug was the municipal band lent by the Mayor of Havana which played the Cuban and other tug was occupied by a committee of Cuban veterans.

General Castro landed on San Francisco wharf where 500 people were gathered. As he passed through the crowds he raised his hat and repeated several times, "Vivi for the Cuban nation," he people responded with cheers for Castro.

The entire crowd followed the visitor who drove in an automobile decorated with the Venezuelan colors to his hotel where General Rafael Reyes, ex-president of Colombia, also resides.

TURK FAILS TO GET
SUPPORT OF POWERS

Envoy at London Who to Strengthen
Turkey's Claim to Adrianople Fails in Mission.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Constantinople, Feb. 26.—The mission of London of Ibrahim Hakki, shah of the Ottoman government, has failed. His object was to persuade the powers to support the claim of Turkey to the retention of Adrianople.
He was however unable to prevail
upon the powers to accept the Porte's
note as a basis for fresh peace negotiations and he had no authority to go beyond the proposal contained in that document.

Although some members of the Turkish cabinet are in favor of peace
the war element shows no tendency to weaken its attitude. Military operations are still engaged in skirmishes
at various points along the front.
Fighting to any extended scale is improbable for the present at least owing to the inclemency of the weather.

CABINET PERSONNEL
REMAINS UNCHANGED

Wilson Has Settled Upon Who Will Fill Places But Not on Their Distribution.—Erandeis Mentioned.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 26.—The personnel of the cabinet of President Wilson,
as partially made known last night by information reaching congressional quarters, stood today practically unchanged.
Those best informed on the cabinet
situation said today that President-elect Wilson has settled upon who could fill the post of secretary of the interior, secretary of agriculture, secretary of commerce and labor, and attorney general, but that it had not been determined how the four por-folios would be distributed among them.

Should the senate pass and President Taft sign the bill creating a department of labor with an officer in the cabinet, the president-elect would have one additional cabinet officer to appoint. It is not known where suggestions for filling that additional post have gone.

It was said here today that there was a possibility that Mr. Palmer's declining of the post of secretary of war might at the last moment cause a shift to put Mr. Daniels in that place.
He definitely had been slated for secretary of the navy.

Talk of a cabinet place for Louis
D. Brandeis, the Boston lawyer who revived in more than a casual way,
and some of those in the confidence of the president-elect went so far as to say positively that while they expected Mr. Brandeis would be in the cabinet that he would not be attorney-general.

It was thought by most of them that the most likely place for Mr. Brandeis was in the department of commerce and labor. It was said that nothing definite had been determined upon the attorney generalship, but the man
most prominent in the president-elect's consideration was a democrat who had done some anti-trust work.

Gronna-Stutz Wedding.
Washington, Feb. 26.—Congressional society was interested today in the wedding of Miss Marguerite Katherine Stutz, daughter of Dr. and Mrs.
Stutz of this city, and James D. Gron-na, son of Senator and Mrs. A. J. Gron-na of North Dakota.

George W. Perkins to Speak.
Elgin, Ill., Feb. 26.—Preparations are complete for the reception and entertaining of a host of visitors expected here tomorrow for the annual State convention of the Y. M. C. A.
The big feature of the convention will be a banquet Friday evening, at which George W. Perkins, the New York financier will be the principal speaker.

Sir John Tenniel is 95.

WILSON'S LAST DAY
IN STATE'S SERVICE

Expected to Complete Work at State House in Trenton by Tonight—
Ready for Washington Trip.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Trenton, N. J., Feb. 26.—Today was President-elect Wilson's last working day at the state house. By nightfall
he expected to wind up his duties as governor of New Jersey. His secretary, Joseph Tumulty, will leave tonight for Washington.

Final arrangements for the journey
of the president-elect and his family
to the capital were completed today.
A student committee from Princeton will call at the Wilson bungalow
Monday morning to take the Wilson family to the station.

Six hundred students will travel
with them to Washington on the special train. The remainder will go in a second section later in the day. The program calls for the departure of Mr. Wilson at 1:00 a. m. Two parlor cars have been provided for the Wilson party and a special baggage car will carry the Wilson baggage.

On arrival in Washington the students will form a line through which the new president will pass and a committee of the Princetonians will escort the Wilsons to a hotel. On the morning of the inauguration Mr.
Wilson will pass from his hotel to the White House through a lane of Princeton students extending from the hotel
to the White House.

WILL BEGIN TRIALS
OF PHTHISIS SERUM

Dr. Frederick Friedmann Will Start
Treatment of Patients as Soon
As He Secures Laboratory.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Feb. 26.—Dr. Frederick Friedmann, the young German physician who arrived here yesterday,
heralded as the discoverer of a cure
for tuberculosis, will begin the treatment of patients as soon as he secures a suitable laboratory. This he announced today. Among the first to be treated will be Ray Harris, son-in-law of the New York banker at whose invitation Dr. Friedmann came to this country.

FIND STEPHEN DOW
GUILTY OF CHARGE

President of Four Michigan Mining Companies Guilty of Conversion of Their Funds.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Boston, Mass., Feb. 26.—Stephen R.
Dow, head of the brokerage firm of
S. R. Dow and Company was found guilty today on twenty-four of ninety-two counts of an indictment charging the conversion of funds of mining companies in which he was interested.
The bail of $25,000 was continued, pending sentence and appeal. He was president of four Michigan mining companies, the Algonquin, Indiana, Franklin and North Lake. Funds of these companies amounting to $300,- 000 were involved in the indictment.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Los Angeles, Feb. 26.—Snowbound
by drifts in places 30 feet deep, dwellers on the summit of Mt. Wilson where perches the Carnegie observatory, are cut off from the outside world. Unless they can work their way out within 24 hours it is feared they will be in a serious plight. Already they are reported to be short of food.

POSTMASTER GENERAL
HITCHCOCK WILL TAKE LONG REST SOON

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 26.—Postmaster
General Hitchcock will not resume public life or engage in private business until at least six months after his retirement from the cabinet. He said today he either would make a trip to Europe or else visit the Panama canal zone. He said he had received a number of offers to engage in business, but that he had not yet decided which to accept.

ECHO OF M'GOVERN
CONTROVERSY HEARD

Arguments in Senate Yesterday on Senator Zophy's Bill to Pay Expenses of Officials Freed of Charges.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., Feb. 26.—An echo of the McGovern-Ekern controversy was heard in the senate yesterday when Senator Zophy's bill, 157S, proposing to pay the legal expenses of certain,
town, city, village and county officials
in certain cases was saved from slaughter after extended discussion
and was re-referred to the judiciary committee which had reported it for indefinite postponement.

The bill provides that whenever any town, village, city or county official has charges preferred against him in his official capacity or whenever such official is removed by a superior executive or governing board or dismissed or determined favorably to such officer, then such town, village,
city or county shall pay all reasonable expenses incurred by such official in his defense.

Cites Clancy Case.
Senator Zophy made an earnest plea for his measure, declaring that it sought to arrive only at the solution of a problem that often creates a hardship. He cited the case of Fire Chief Murray of Milwaukee, who after a long proceeding seeking to oust him
he was finally vindicated and restored to office, but not until the expenses incurred had amounted to some-$6,000. Other instances of similar nature were recalled, and the senator insisted that in such cases an injustice was wrought that should be provided against. He consented to an amendment making the action of the town, village, city or county discretionary and not mandatory.

Senator Kilean, chairman of the judiciary committee, vigorously defended the report of the committee for indefinite postponement.

"Why," he asked, "should the municipality pay the expenses of the official discharged, and not pay the expenses of the man accused of crime and found not guilty?"

"As a matter of justice," he said,
"the latter was entitled to the greater consideration for his character had been blackened by a court record and a greater injustice had been done him.
Then, too, Senator Kilean argued,
if the charges against the official are substantiated there would be just as much reason in demanding that the accused should pay the expenses incurred by the municipality of the removing officer."

Senator Bosshard spoke at considerable length in support of Zophy's view as a matter of justice.

It was here that the echo of the Ekern-McGovern case resounded. Senator Randolph moved to inquire of Senator Kilean why Governor McGovern should be permitted to have counsel in this matter and make the state
pay the cost.

Allow Flood of Claims.
Senator Kilean replied that the query was wholly beside the case.
The legislature, he said, in its wisdom
—or lack of wisdom—had passed a law providing that the governor might employ special counsel in certain cases. As to the righteousness of that act he would not say, but he was emphatic in the view that the legislature should not let down the bars to any flood of claims that might arise, and certainly would arise, once
the opening is made.

Speaking of the matter after adjournment, Senator Kilean characterized the proposition as most dangerous. It is of the same piece as the claims made by citizens for damages done by deer to growing crops. There is a certain justice, he said, in these claims, perhaps, but shall the state
open up the way for all these claims?

He asked.

"There are times," suggested the senator, "when we should look to the consequences of our actions before we legislate in the interest of any particular class of claimants."

GOVERNMENT TO USE
FRIEDMANN VACCINE

Surgeon General Blue of Public Health Service Will Test Out
German Doctor's Tubercular's Cure.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 26.—Surgeon General Blue of the public health service has arranged for tests in the government hygienic laboratory here of the Friedmann vaccine for pulmonary tuberculosis, which was delivered yesterday to Dr. Milton H. Foster of the service in New York by Dr. Fried-mann, when he landed from Germany.

Surgeon General Blue said today that when the vaccine was received in Washington it would first be subjected to rigid laboratory tests and to tests upon animals and culture media. If these are satisfactory the vaccine will be sent to the public health sanitarium at Fort Stanton,
New Mexico, for actual tests upon sufferers from pulmonary tuberculosis.

PLAN ON LEGISLATION TO AID IN POLICE PROBE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New York, Feb. 26.—The mayor of New York and two former mayors and a host of other higher officials in and out of office will help a committee of state legislators to frame legislation to remedy the local police situation.
Hearings were begun today before this committee and will continue until the members feel themselves able to diagnose the recent police graft scandal and recommend the law to cure them.

TAFT TELLS PLANS
FOR WORK AT YALE

President in Letter to Yale News Discusses Work Which He Will Soon Take Up.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
New Haven, Conn., Feb. 26.—President Taft in a letter to the Yale News
today discusses the work he is soon to take up at Yale as Kent professor of law in the college. In part he says:
"It is with no great claims to erudition that I come back to Yale, but it is with the earnest hope that from a somewhat extensive and varied experience I have gleaned something of use to the young men with whom I shall come in daily contact."

"There is need that our young men should appreciate the constitution of the United States under which we have enjoyed so many blessings and under which we must work out our political and economic salvation, and this need especially is keen in a day
when that instrument is regarded so lightly by a class of fanatical enthusiasts seeking short cuts to economic perfection on the one hand, and by unscrupulous demagogues who to promote their own interests do not hesitate to incite disaffected and contempt for the constitution and the laws on the other. If I can help the men of Yale to know the value of our institutions and to appreciate the danger of accepting every rostrum that is offered and of abandoning those foundations without which our government could not have been, I shall be thrice content."

SCENE OF DISORDER
WITNESSED IN HOUSE

Congressman Murray of Massachusetts Forcibly Removed by Sergeant-at-Arms—Later He Apologizes.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, Feb. 26.—A riotous
scene occurred in the house today
when during the consideration of the naval appropriation bill, Representative Murray of Massachusetts, standing upon the speakers rostrum, demanded recognition to make a parliamentary point order against two members having the same views appearing as tellers on a one battleship proposition.

Representative Alexander of Miss-
souri presiding over the house repeatedly ordered Mr. Murray back to the floor, and finally by his direction Mr.
Murray for forcibly removed from the rostrum by a deputy sergeant-at-arms. Mr. Murray fought against this removal and his coat was almost pulled off in taking him away.

Mr. Murray's colleagues gathered around him quickly and Speaker Clark took the chair and order was restored. Murray was then recognized to make a speech of explanation during which he contended that he found an authority for his action
in a book he had read at the congressional library. Later Mr. Murray apologized to the house.

HUNDREDS REPORTED
DEAD IN EXPLOSION

On-lookers Buried in Debris When Dynamite Charge Goes Off Unexpectedly in Spanish City.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Gijon, Spain, Feb. 26.—Upwards of two hundred people were killed or wounded by the ill-timed explosion of a charge of seven thousand pounds of black powder which had been laid yesterday by government engineers with the object of raising an enormous block of rock.

An immense concourse of townspeople had gathered to witness the demolishing of the hill separating Gijon
from the cooling harbor of Muelle;
mile and half away. The object of the operation was to cut a roadway
and thus avoid the present long detour
by the sea.

The hour was set for the "use to be lighted and the explosion occurred but instead of the stretch of rock being blasted hundreds of tons of clay and small stones were hurled into the air like artillery projectiles among the assembled spectators.

Whole families were mowed down
and many of the engineers and municipal officials were killed. Twenty-four bodies had been recovered at noon today, but it is believed that the total fatalities will far exceed that number.

COLLAPSE OF BUILDING

GRANT THREE WOMEN

DIVORCES TUESDAY

Two From Janesville and One From Brodhead Secure Divorce From Judge Grimm.

Three women sought and secured relief from marital wrongs before Judge Grimm in the circuit court late Tuesday afternoon. Candace A. Smith of Brodhead, Wis., was granted a divorce from her husband, John Franklin Smith on the ground of non-support; Alice M. Corbitt of this city received an absolute decree from Thomas C. Corbitt on the grounds of cruelty and habitual drunkenness, and she was granted the custody of the three children. Ida M. Geer secured separation from W. G. Geer, also of Janesville, on the ground of desertion.

A judgment of foreclosure was granted in the case of William A. McEwan against Watson A. Aldrich. The first jury case is that of Mary Griffin vs. the Rockford and International company and is called for trial next Monday afternoon. The case of Anthony I. Schmidt against the same company follows it on the day calendar.

"Still less!" she laughed. "I would!" he shouted, in desperation. "I would marry you if you turned militant suffragette!" "Harold!" she cried, rapturously. "How you must love me!" And they married and lived happily most of the time ever after.

MANUFACTURES SALT FROM THE SEA WATER

WINN S. PROCTER, FORMER JANESVILLE MAN, MANAGER OF PLANT AT LONG BEACH, CAL.

READS LIKE FAIRY TALE

Like Making the Ocean They Gather the Salt While the Sun Shines, at Rate of Fifty Tons Daily.

Winn S. Procter, a former resident of Janesville, is manager of the Long Beach Salt Company at Long Beach, Cal., a firm which is engaged in the manufacture of salt from sea water. Mr. Procter has numerous friends and relatives in Janesville who will be greatly interested in the following letter from C. R. Vanhorne which appeared in a Rockford paper recently in which is described the process of securing the salt and other phases of this interesting business which, on the face of it, sounds like a fairy tale. Mr. Vanhorne's letter follows:

"A visit to a plant where salt is extracted from the ocean is, exceedingly interesting. I made such a visit to the Long Beach Salt company and what I saw and the information gathered was of such a character that I give the description for the benefit of your readers."

The company's plant is located between Long Beach and San Pedro, bordering on the harbor that is to be of such supreme value to shipping when the great Panama canal is opened. The land belongs to the San Pedro and Salt Lake railway company, of which the salt company leases 1,600 acres. This marsh land years ago was of such little value that Mr. Bibby bought a number of thousand acres of it for nine cents per acre. After a few years he sold considerable of it for $1.25 an acre and concluded he did well on the sale. Today that same land is worth from $500 to $1,000 an acre. Much of this marsh land has been elevated with soil to the height of four feet. This was done by building dykes and then having the water and mud dredged out of the harbor run through long pipes and dumped into these basins enclosed with dykes. The water would drain back into the ocean, leaving the sediment or soil to fill up the basin and so become solid ground. Thousands of acres have thus been raised above tide water.

About Ocean Salt.
Water from the ocean is so dense that in weight it contains one ton of salt to nine tons of water. The company has 1,000 acres dyked off into hundreds of basins on either side of a railway that runs from the factory down to the limit of their plant. In the factory there is installed a powerful pump that forces through a large pipe 10,000 gallons of sea water per minute. The water comes from the ocean in a conduit and is then pumped into the first basin which contains an area of 280 acres. They call this a pond. When evaporation begins it is indicated by a thick dirty looking scum that floats on the surface. This pond is drained into another and so on until every pond or basin is full. These ponds are filled once a year, usually in the spring just before the real warm weather begins. During the summer months when the heat is intense and the evaporation rapid it takes thirty days for the salt to be deposited on the bottom of these ponds or basins.

The water that is left on top of the salt deposit is then drawn off into a large reservoir and is called "bittern water." This bittern is all waste, but now is utilized for the manufacture of bi-products.

Breaking Up The Salt.
Soon as the water called bittern is drawn off, breaking up the salt crust begins. This is done by Mexicans who are paid $2 per day. The salt is shoveled up into large windrows three to four feet high. The day I visited this plant there were 400,000 tons of salt thus raked up. Tram railways are laid beside a long rack of salt, and a car run down and filled with salt, then hauled up by a pony engine on a large car and automatically dumped into a large box on the car which holds 35 tons and then it is run to the factory where it is hoisted by machinery and emptied into the salt box or bins that hold 1,000 tons of salt.

Salt Dried and Ground.
The machinery in this factory is all automatic. One man attends to all of it. It is so perfect in its construction. From the big salt bin the salt is carried up by bucket, belt and dumped into a dryer. This consists of four cast iron tubes 16 feet long and 18 inches in diameter. These dryers are heated with crude oil. Crude oil is used as salt does not materially affect it, while it eats up steel in sixty days. From the dryer the salt is elevated to the seven cast iron rolls, passing through one set to the other in succession. After passing through rolls it is screened, the last screening giving the fine table salt.

From the rolls which grind the salt, it descends into various bins according to grade and running down small spouts is emptied into cartons or muslin bags, and girls paste on the tops of the cartons or tie the bags when full. This factory turns out all grades of salt for various purposes, from fine table salt 99 per cent pure, to sweepings and dust salt, which is sold at $3 per ton to farmers for the purpose of killing grass and weeds. This factory is shipping on the average of 50 tons of salt per day. This seems large, but we must remember that the consumption of salt per capita in the United States last year was 80 pounds and if our population is 90,000,000 it means that 7,200,000,000 pounds of salt was used last year.

Some Salty Items.
In this factory there is an automatic filler and scales that fill 25 five pound cartons and weighs them every minute. The large muslin sacks are all lined with celluloid paper that is impervious to water, so that the salt will not become damp by absorbing moisture from the atmosphere. This company orders 3,000,000 pasteboard cartons at a time from New York as no pasteboard is manufactured on the Pacific coast. They order 1,000,000

muslin salt sacks at a time. The company has an artesian well 250 feet deep of pure fresh water and from it they supply the ships at San Pedro with fresh water.

About the Bi-products.
George Reis has charge of the bi-products that are made from the refuse water or as they call it "bittern water." This water is heavily charged with chlorides and magnesium. This water is pumped into large vats where it is treated so the chlorides are separated and preserved and the magnesium deposited. Mr. Reis has various patents from the government for making some 18 varieties of bi-products from this bittern water material. Beautiful marble, mantle tile, paint, floor tiles and a lot of other valuable material and last but not least he makes railroad ties and this is so elastic and porous that it will hold a spike when driven into it. These ties can be made at just double the cost of wood ties, but cheaper in the end for they do not decay. A certain amount of iron is used in making the ties.

Catching Birds With Salt.
We were told when children how to catch birds by putting salt on their tails. See how it is done here. When the salt water or ponds become very heavy with salt, snipe and ducks take wade or swim in this water, soon have the salt crystallized on their legs and feathers so they cannot rise up and fly. So it is the duty of one man every morning in that season to walk along these dykes and catch these birds so as to prevent their dying and so spoiling the salt. As high as 10 to 12 birds are caught every morning in the hot season.

The officers of this company were so courteous to your correspondent that I wish to give the names to the public. J. C. Dunn is president; C. J. Walker is secretary and treasurer. These also with S. Townsend and Roy Townsend are directors. The manager at the plant is Winn S. Procter, a Janesville, Wis., boy. He with the vice president places me under obligations for showing me over the plant and giving me the above information.

PRICE OF TIMOTHY SEED WILL BE LOW

Yield of Last Year Exceptionally Heavy—Cost of Timothy Seed Promised to Remain High.

Timothy seed will be low in price this spring according to Janesville seed dealers. The seed dealers are firm and prices will probably be as high as last season when the spring demand begins.

The heavy hay crop and large amount threshed is responsible for the decided drop in the price of timothy seed. At this time last year it was being sold at from $7 to $8 a bushel. This year a bushel will get from $1.50 to $2.50 a bushel. Local firms have shipped out a large quantity of timothy seed in the last few weeks.

Failure of the European clover seed crop to attain the usual yield is largely responsible for the price holding up. The Wisconsin and Michigan yield was fairly good. Most of the seed of inferior quality is shipped to the southern states where the seed laws are less rigid in their requirements than those of Wisconsin and neighboring commonwealths.

APPROVE AMENDMENT TO COMMISSION LAW

City Council Regards With Favor Plan to Designate Senior Councilman Vice-President.

Members of the Janesville city council this morning expressed their approval of a bill now before the legislature to create sub-section 2a of section 925m-308 of the statutes, providing for the choosing of an acting mayor in cities under commission form of government. This sub-section provides that at the first meeting of the council after the passage of the act, and annually at the first meeting of the council in each corporate year, the council shall designate, by vote, the senior councilman as vice president of the council, and in the absence of the mayor from the city, or in case of his inability for any reason to discharge the duties of his office, the vice president shall, as acting mayor, exercise all the power and discharge all the duties of the mayor. There is now no legal provision to meet the emergencies that are set forth in this bill.

To Pop Corn.

Very often corn will not pop quickly, even over a very hot fire. If you will put the corn to be popped in a sieve and pour cold water over it, not allowing the water to stand on the corn, it will not only pop quickly, but the open kernels will be larger and lighter and more flaky than they otherwise would have been.

MORE EFFECTIVE THAN CALOMEL, CASTOR OIL OR SALTS; GENTLY CLEANSSES THE STOMACH, LIVER AND BOWELS WITHOUT NAUSEA OR GRIPING. CHILDREN DEARLY LOVE IT.

You know when your liver is bad, when your bowels are sluggish. You feel a certain dullness and depression, perhaps the approach of a headache, your stomach gets sour and full of gas, tongue coated, breath foul, or you have indigestion. You say, "I am bilious or constipated and I must take something to-night."

Most people shrink from a physic—they think of castor oil, calomel, salts or cathartic pills.

It's different with Syrup of Figs. Its effect is as that of fruit; of eating coarse food; of exercise. Take a teaspoonful of delicious Syrup of Figs to-night, and you won't realize you have taken anything until morning, when all the clogged up waste matter, sour bile and constipation poisons move on and out of your system, without

TAKE PERUNA FOR COUGHS AND COLDS

S. B. HARTMAN, M.D. the beginning of Columbus, Ohio.

Yes, I mean what I say. It prevents a cough. A cough is an effort to expel catarrhal discharges in the bronchial tubes. There would be no catarrhal discharges in the bronchial tubes if Peruna was taken at the beginning of a cold, therefore there would be no cough. Don't you catch the point?

After the cough begins Peruna will stop it just as quickly as it ought to be stopped. To stop a cough before

If you used all of the expectation has been removed is to do great injury. After the expectation has been properly removed the cough will stop itself. That is the only proper way to stop a cough.

Occasionally a cough depends upon an irritable condition of the larynx or bronchial tubes, in which there is little or no expectation.

The problem of stopping such a cough is a slightly different one. Even in those cases Peruna ought to be taken, but sometimes it is necessary that local treatment be added.

But in any case Peruna is needed. You do not have to stop to write me. Get Peruna at once and commence taking it. You can get rid of that cough sooner I believe than in any other way.

Should you wish to consult me at any time while you are taking Peruna you are at perfect liberty to write me. Your letters will be held strictly confidential and you will receive prompt answer.

I want to stop that cough of yours. I want to stop it before it really begins. I want to stop it before it has a chance to injure your lungs, an injury that you may not recover from during your whole life. Yes, I do. You do your part; I will do mine. No. 54. Advertisement.

HAVE SENT A CALL TO REV. OTTERSON

Clergyman at West Salem, Wisconsin, Asked to Accept Pulpit of Norwegian Lutheran Church.

The Rev. O. Ottersson of West Salem, Wisconsin, has received a call to become pastor of the Janesville Norwegian Lutheran church to succeed the Rev. W. A. Johnson, who has accepted the pastorate of the Norwegian Lutheran church at Capron, Ill. Acknowledgement of the call has been made by the Rev. Ottersson who stated that he wished to take the matter under advisement with his two congregations before making a definite reply. His decision is not expected for about two weeks. The Rev. S. L. Tolkackson of Badger, Minn., to whom the call was first sent declined it. At the present time he is caring not only for his own congregation but for those of a neighboring pastor, making time in all. It was thought impossible to get a successor for him at the present time. A call was also to have been sent to the Rev. Knaseth of Rochester, Minn., but it was learned that he had consented to become the assistant of the Rev. Kvæle of Orfordville, for a year, and that he was not prepared to accept a permanent charge at the present time.

AMENDMENT TO AUTO ORDINANCE PLANNED

City Attorney Instructed to Draw One Up Providing For Higher Speed in Climbing Hills.

City Attorney W. H. Dougherty has been instructed by Mayor James A. Fathens to draw up an amendment to the ordinance regulating the speed of automobiles and motorcycles which will permit higher speed in climbing hills. According to the ordinance as it now stands eight miles is the maximum legal speed within that part of the city on the east by the east line of Garfield avenue and north to the north line of Prospect avenue, or the south by the south lines of Court street, Park place and Pleasant street, on the north by the north line of Prospect avenue and West Bluff street, and on the west by the west line of Washington street. Enforcement of this speed limit works a hardship on the drivers of automobiles in so far as it applies to streets on which there are steep hills. To climb them at eight miles an hour it is necessary for the driver to drop into low gear, stop the engine, entailing unnecessary wear and tear on the mechanism. Speeds twice as great as the present legal maximum can be maintained with perfect safety in climbing hills as there could be no trouble in bringing an automobile to a stop when going up a grade. It is probable that the proposed amendment will be submitted to an early meeting of the council for its first reading.

Met Peculiar Death.

A case in which three bluejackets were killed by fumes from potatoes was described in the recent annual report on the health of the British navy. The men were overcome in a provision room in the Superb, where there was a stock of potatoes. Some of the potatoes were germinating, and this gave rise to an accumulation of gas, which suffocated the men.

LINK AND PIN

NEW SPEED RESTRICTIONS ADOPTED BY NORTHWESTERN

The new speed restrictions which have just been issued by the officials of the road have just been adopted and placed on the bulletin board at the roundhouse. The new table went into effect February 21, at 12:01 a. m. Each station with its interlocking plant has a certain speed over which the engineers are restricted. The trains moving into Chicago are forced to the low speed of ten and fifteen miles per hour. On the main lines where there are the automatic block signals the trains are allowed to exceed this rate, but in the case of the Chicago tracks there is so much traffic and trespassing that higher speed is not practical. Also there are two important changes in the speed governed by the signals.

(1)—When a signal to proceed by a dwarf, or a slow speed signal located at the bottom of the home signal, or across the track from it, a train may proceed at a rate not to exceed 15 miles per hour.

(2)—The speed of a train moving over a crossing overrunning from the main line track to a siding, or to a diverging route at a junction, the speed of the train must not exceed 15 miles per hour.

T. W. Conway, traveling passenger agent of the A. F. and S. F., had business in this city today.

Albert Preston, representative of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad transacted business in this city today.

Port Snap Shots by Dan McCort

A certain big league player, whose name we will kindly refrain from mentioning, tells how he was driven into the national game.

"I was fishing on part owner of a fish tug before I went to the minors," he says. "I was getting more money than I got my first year in baseball. But the fish business was too dirty and I couldn't do anything else but play ball."

"To show how dirty the fish business is: I'd be sitting at home in the evening and begin to rise from my chair to leave the house. When I started for the door the Missus would yell, 'Go slowly, John, so the flies will follow.'"

***

Dick Egan, second baseman of the Cincinnati Reds for the past four years, says the Pittsburgh Pirates are going to carry off the National League pennant this year. "The Pirates' pitching staff is a wonder," he says. "It's a pretty tough proposition for a team to go up against such pitchers as Hendrix, O'Toole, Camnitz, and Adams four days running. You never get an easy one to bet against, and I want to tell you that these are four of the best pitchers in the National League."

***

Ralph Rose, the burly California athlete, still goes on smashing records. His latest achievement was to raise his own world record for the 15-pound shot put from 44 feet 1-8 inches to 45 feet 3-4 inches.

***

Jack Denning, the New York middleweight, has apparently been going back since his defeat several months ago at the hands of Tommy Gavigan, the Cleveland fighter. Gavigan gave him the worst beating he had ever had up to that time. Denning's latest defeat was at the hands of Jack Dillon last week in Indianapolis.

***

Mickey McBride, late manager of Eddie Murphy, the Boston lightweight, thinks very highly of the fight art of Jess Willard, the Texas heavyweight. "Willard will beat McCarty surely," says Mickey. "He is a fast, big fellow with an unusual reach and a fast pair of mitts. He knows all about feinting and he stings with that long left every time a fellow gets within reach. He earned one newspaper decision over McCarty, and I believe he will beat him again if they ever meet. Willard looks like the best of the big fellows to me."

***

The San Francisco Seals have at last found the reason why they didn't win the pennant last year. The pitcher's box, it has just been discovered, was six inches too far from the plate. It was 61 feet from the batter's box. This a twister had to throw 100 feet a game too far, and the consequent wear and tear put the Seals down in the race, say they.

***

Packey McFarland intimates that he will make sausage of Jack Britton when the two meet in battle at New York on March 7. "I have never bet on myself," says McFarland, "but I am willing to wager this time for I intend to give Britton such a beating as he never before received because of his remarks in the press."

***

BASEBALL NOTES.

Catcher Jim Archer and Pitcher Larry Cheney are the only holdouts among Johnny Evers' Chicago Cubs.

Manager George Stallings, of the Boston Braves, believes he has copped a star in Frank Metz, the Texas League heavy hitter.

***

President McAlleer, of the Boston Red Sox, says he has all his men in line with the exception of "Duffy" Lewis and Bill Carrigan.

***

The Philadelphia National League Club has signed Pitcher Joe Pinneran, who worked for the Norfolk team, of the Virginia League, last season.

***

Mike Mowrey signed his contract with the Cardinals early this year. Last season Mike didn't report until after the team returned from Spring practice.

***

Eddie Plank has promised Connie Mack that he will sign and go South with the Athletics. Eddie says that he has decided to stick to the game "just one more year."

***

Johnny O'Neill, who at seventy-six is one of the most enthusiastic of fans, has booked to take the proposed trip around the world with the Giants and White Sox.

***

George Moriarty, third baseman and official song writer of the Detroit Tigers, has signed his 1913 contract. George asserts that he is all "tuned up" and ready for the first number.

***

The Philadelphia National League team will furnish two college baseball coaches this Spring. Pitcher Buck will coach the Colgate University nine and Jimmy Dowd will develop the Amherst battery material.

Heine Zimmerman, champion batsman of the National League and star third baseman of the Cubs, attributes his success as a slugger to the game of golf. He says that playing the old Scottish game gave him a keen eye and a free natural swing.

TELLS LITTLE STORY ABOUT MERLE ADKINS

Former Y. M. C. A. Base Ball Player
Well Known Here Made Reputation as Twirler.

There are plenty of Janesville baseball fans who remember Merle Adkins, the Y. M. C. A. pitcher who played in a Janesville uniform when Janesville sported a good fast team. Later he went to Baltimore and made a name for himself in the national pastime, which is recounted by C. L. Schanberger in the following little story:

After leaving college Adkins went to Baltimore where he served ten years as the mainstay of the pitching staff and as a token of appreciation for his work the management gives him his unconditional release instead of selling him or releasing him to some club in a lower league with a string attached to him.

With his unconditional release Adkins can if he desires to continue in the game, negotiate with other clubs as a free agent and not only choose his own place to continue his work but perhaps realize a benefit financially.

Following are the fine words spoken of Adkins by Schanberger, which is a compliment few ball players ever receive from the press, even in their own cities and which show that he is worthy of them:

Doc Adkins has made a quiet exit from the baseball life of Baltimore and perhaps the active sport generally. It develops that the general twirler was not sent a contract by the Baltimore management, thus automatically severing his connection with a club which he has served faithfully for ten years. Adkins, "dear-old Adkins" as he will long be remembered by hosts of friends in this city, has scored the way of many a good ball player before him. He was a fine pitcher in his day, and there never was a time when he did not give to his manager the full worth of his salary. He made a great record while in Oriole, helping very materially in bringing the only pennant to this city which it has won since being a member of the old Eastern League, now the International, and was besides always an ornament to the sport.

Such men as Adkins have helped to raise baseball to the plane on which it now finds itself. He is a college man and has for years been a practicing physician, serving several terms as intern at one of the local hospitals. It is expected that Adkins will land a managerial job in some lower class league, as his days as a ball player are not over by any means. Last season he had some trouble with his arm, but this he attributed to the early spring training, and it will be a surprise if Adkins experiences several years more of pitching before Father Time rings the bell.

BLUE JAYS WIN TWO OUT OF THREE FROM LARKS

Two out of three games went to the Blue Jays in their match with the Larks at the bowling alleys last evening. The Larks narrowly won the first game and made a good bid for the second. They howled in poor form in the third and were distanced over a hundred pins. The Robins and Swallows will meet on Thursday night. Last night's score.

TURN GEMEINDE BLUES MEET CARDINALS FRIDAY

Janesville fans will be treated to some exceptionally fine basketball playing when the Turn Gemeinde Blues clash with the Lakota Cardinals here Friday night. The Turn Gemeinde Blues are well known to the local fans and were defeated by the Lakotas January 27 by the score of 17 to 13. The game was the closest contest of the year and the Chicago team expressed themselves as confident of beating the Janesville team on a return game. The Blues are composed of strong players and like the Armour Square team have a reputation of being one of the best teams in the northwest. The Cardinals express no fear of defeat as they have, with one exception, defeated this team and expect to continue their winning streak Friday night.

CLABBY—ZANDERS BATTLE INTERESTS FIGHT FANS

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 26.—Fight fans of Chicago and vicinity are manifesting a little interest in the ten-round bout scheduled for Hammond, Ind., tomorrow night between Jimmy Clabby, the clever Milwaukee fighter, and Ernie Zanders, who recently returned from a successful campaign in Australia. Both fighters are of the hard-hitting variety and it is expected their meeting will furnish the biggest pugilistic attraction that has been staged hereabout in a long time.

POOL TOURNEY PLAN OF MOOSE PLAYERS

Series of Matches Will Begin March 1
At Club Rooms—Flynn and Wells Captains.

Beginning Saturday, March 1, the Moose Club will conduct a pool tournament at its club rooms similar to those recently conducted by the Larks. John Flynn and Roy Wells have been elected captains of rival teams and will choose their aides in the near future. Many members have promised to take part in the contests. The Moose have two pool tables and they are now in almost constant use by men practicing for the coming tourney.

Johnny O'Neill, who at seventy-six is one of the most enthusiastic of fans, has booked to take the proposed trip around the world with the Giants and White Sox.

George Moriarty, third baseman and official song writer of the Detroit Tigers, has signed his 1913 contract. George asserts that he is all "tuned up" and ready for the first number.

The Philadelphia National League team will furnish two college baseball coaches this Spring. Pitcher Buck will coach the Colgate University nine and Jimmy Dowd will develop the Amherst battery material.

Heine Zimmerman, champion batsman of the National League and star third baseman of the Cubs, attributes his success as a slugger to the game of golf. He says that playing the old Scottish game gave him a keen eye and a free natural swing.

Mayor Rosslyn M. Cox, of Middletown, N. Y., will act as president of the recently organized New York and New Jersey League. Teams will be placed in Middletown, Long Island City, Poughkeepsie, Newburgh and Kingston, N. Y., and Paterson, N. J.

A Little Story About How Bock Beer Derives Its Name:

"Bock Beer derives its name from Einbock Beer from Einbock (now Einbeck) Germany, formerly noted for its fine beers. The present custom of serving Bock Beer, popularly associated with the goat (German Bock) at the opening of the spring season, comes from the time, when, owing to the lack of proper refrigeration, brewing was not carried on during the hot weather. The new beer, which was first served about Easter time, had aged in the cellars from early fall and was naturally stronger, and was brewed richer and fuller of flavor as a gift or hansom from the brewer to his customers."

In London, a wealthy betting man dressed as a peddler, walked through the West End, offering £5 Bank of England notes for Two Cents Each. He allowed people to handle them and satisfy themselves of their genuineness, but could sell Only Two. The Associated Press cabled "Countless pedestrians smiled their skepticism and passed the bargains by." The trouble with all but two of those West Enders was: they had no notes with which to compare those offered them.

We fear no comparisons knowing what fabrics constitute Whittall Rugs. Neither microscope nor magnifier needed to show the superiority of the famed Whittall Anglo Persian Rug; it stands out like a brilliant comet in the milky way, when compared with other so-called "high grade" rugs. Come and see these wonderful Whittall fabrics, and observe how fine the plush is, in contrast to others which may have come under your notice. It will pay you even though we do not offer £5 notes for two cents.

RECEIVING ENTRIES FOR FARMERS' FAIR

EXHIBITORS ARE PROMPT IN SENDING LISTS TO SECRETARY LANE.

BIGGEST SHOW EVER

Attractive Prizes in Every Department Insure the Very Best Grade of Exhibits.—Program of Lectures.—

Entries for the annual mid-winter fair which will be held at the auditorium beginning Monday, March 3rd, began to pour into the office of Secretary Frank P. Lane of the Commercial Club yesterday, and every mail today brought in scores of exhibitors containing well filled entry blanks. "It indicates that we will have the biggest mid-winter show on record," said Mr. Lane today. "I am especially gratified at the promptness in which the farmers are responding to the call to get their entries in early. It will simplify matters greatly at my office and will mean more time to arrange and classify the exhibits."

Last year there was considerable delay on the part of the exhibitors in presenting their entry lists and over fifty per cent were filed on the day that the show opened. This necessitated an extra amount of work at a time when there was a rush to receive and tag the exhibits as they were brought in.

The exceptional list of prizes which have been offered by the Jamesville merchants are sufficient to attract the very best grain, vegetable, dairy products, needle work and culinary efforts which can be produced in Rock County. The grain show promises to be a big feature as the Rock County Grain Growers' Association are lending their efforts to secure the best and largest entries possible. The special premium offered by the Jamesville Machine company to the best exhibit of grains by a single exhibitor is well worth trying for.

A list of speakers has been secured for Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, the four big days of the fair. The program will be as follows:

Tuesday—Address: "Dairying," J. D. Clarke, and an address: "Preparing Pure Bred Seed Grains Previous to Sowing," by George L. Hemmingsway. Wednesday—Prof. L. F. Graber, professor of agronomy at the college of agriculture, will talk on "Alfalfa." Thursday—Prof. Hatcher of the state agricultural college will speak on "Agricultural Extension." Friday—Prof. Otis will give an address on "Farm Management."

All of these addresses will be given in the afternoon so that farmers and their wives can make arrangements to attend. Those who hear the entire course of lectures will secure some valuable hints in regard to farming and its problems.

SPECIALIST SPEAKS TO COUNTY DOCTORS

Dr. Jos. Brennemann of Chicago Gives Address on Children's Diseases at Meeting Last Night.

Members of the Rock County Medical Society enjoyed an interesting lecture at their regular monthly meeting which was held at Beloit Tuesday evening, on the subject of "Conditions of Diseases That Are Most Commonly Overlooked in the Treatment of Children," by Dr. Jos. Brennemann of Chicago.

Dr. Brennemann is a prominent Chicago physician and enjoys a reputation as a specialist in children's diseases. His address last night was supplemented and made clear by a number of cases of Beloit children who were brought in by the Beloit physicians.

Other numbers on the program were: "Experiences in the Practice of Medicine in Mexico," Dr. Howard Eaton; and "The Recognized Value of Some of the Internal Secretions," Dr. F. B. Welch. Dr. H. E. Burger and Dr. D. Connell lead the discussions.

The society plans to have an authority from Chicago present at each meeting hereafter to give the principal address on some special topic along his line. Dr. Brennemann's lecture was the first in accordance with this plan which has met with enthusiasm among the physicians. The next meeting will be held March 25th at the city hall, Jamesville.

Dr. Brennemann was the guest of Dr. F. W. Van Kirk while in the city.

JURY DECIDES CASE WITHOUT ARGUMENTS

Find for Plaintiff in Case of Thomas W. Carruthers Versus Emil Nitischer.—Arguments Waived.

Without hearing the arguments of the attorneys for the parties to the suit, the jury in the case of Thomas W. Carruthers versus Emil Nitischer, an action of replevin for the possession of an automobile, this morning brought in a verdict for the plaintiff, J. J. Cunningham, counsel for the defense, was called to Chicago last night because of the death of his sister-in-law, and Thomas Nolan, attorney for the plaintiff, consented to his suggestion that the arguments in the case be waived. The taking of testimony was concluded yesterday afternoon. The allegation of the plaintiff was that he was lawfully entitled to the possession of a thirty horse power Overland automobile, worth $900, unlawfully detained by Emil Nitischer. The jury in addition to finding Mr. Carruthers entitled to the possession of the automobile, found that he was entitled to $12 damages for unlawful retention of the same. Those who served as jurors were H. M. Dedrick, Arthur McArthur, H. W. Perrigo and John Yahn.

P. S. Winslow is out after being confined to the house three weeks with illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Piller have returned to the city after a visit with friends in Brooklyn.

Miss Emma Borkenhagen spent the first of the week with her parents in Hanover.

John Comstock of this city transacted business in Beloit yesterday.

Mrs. M. H. Hayland of South Third street entertained the Tattling club this afternoon at her home. It was the nature of a Martha Washington affair. The home was beautifully decorated in colonial colors and flowers.

The ladies were all dressed in Martha Washington costumes and a dinner was served at six o'clock. The club is composed of twelve ladies.

The Summer Club of Household Economics will hold their annual meeting and dinner at Carroll M. E. church tomorrow, Feb. 27th. The meeting will open at 10:30 a. m. for business and a dinner will be served at 12 o'clock.

O. L. Richards, who has been in California some time, is expected home about March 4th.

P. S. Sheldahl returned yesterday from Fairbairn, Minn.

DOLLAR DAY IS A HUGE SUCCESS

Merchants Pleased With Results of Big, Concerted Bargain Movement. Splendid Plan To Be Followed Yearly. Gazette Columns Used Exclusively.

Success, spelled with capital letters, marked the effort of every merchant participating in the Big Dollar Day movement which was held in Jamesville today. Hundreds of visitors from all over town came in on every train, in both sleighs, buggies, farm wagons and automobiles. The visitors in all instances were eager to take advantage of the many dollar bargains offered in sixty-five stores and were liberal purchasers, judged from the statements of the storekeepers.

Most of the merchants connected with the Dollar Day event were seen by members of the advertising staff of the Gazette. The expressions of the merchants are here given briefly: "The best business of any day this week," "Practically all of our Dollar Day Bargains, and we had a lot of them, were gone by nine o'clock this morning. We received a number of telephone calls regarding Dollar Day, yesterday," "A splendid thing for Jamesville," "You boys up at 'The Gazette' certainly started something that time, it's a winner," "Great stuff, have done a full day's business by ten o'clock, a number of items were closed out, by noon. A number of people from Edgerton were waiting for me to open the store this morning," "Well satisfied with this forenoon's business," "Sold out on several articles—line trade," "A splendid business all morning in all departments," "Several calls for advertised articles, business very good in other lines," "One man who hadn't done quite all he expected, yet who admitted he had made several sales, said: 'It's a fizzle,' but it's hoped that his business was better during the afternoon."

Gazette Used Exclusively.

The idea of Dollar Day was conceived by the Gazette advertising department and carried out with the enthusiastic support of the advertisers, who used liberal space to tell of their offers. When it is considered that the advertising needed to make the day possible was used exclusively in the Gazette, that no other form of publicity, either newspaper, billboard, hand-bill or form letter, was brought into play, it speaks highly of the Gazette as an advertising medium. The powerful prestige the Gazette has as a factor in advertising has been gained through the confidence its readers have in the announcements which appears in its columns daily.

All that is needed to cover Rock County in an advertising movement is a vigorous campaign in the Gazette. It is planned to make Dollar Day a yearly event.

The Big Sale continues for the rest of the month. The bargains are immense. You should not overlook this opportunity to save money. T. P. Burns.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.

Beloit Corporation: The North-Western Modeling Sand Company of the city of Beloit with a capitalization of $75,000, has been incorporated according to articles filed in the register's office today. H. W. Adams, William S. Perrigo and Charles H. Shaw are the incorporators.

FOREIGNERS PROFIT BY ENGLISH COURSE

Over Twenty-five, Representing Several Different Nationalities Enrolled—Willing Pupils.

More than twenty-five foreigners—Greeks, Austrians, Swiss, Germans, Norwegians, Irish and Poles—are enrolled in the night school courses for English. The number is about equally divided between the men's class taught by Prof. Emil Roethie, and the women's class, taught by Miss Maude Munroe. In the men's class there are three Greeks, two Austrians, three Swiss, one Irishman, two Germans, four Norwegians, and two Poles. Norwegians and Germans predominate in the class for women.

The teachers find their pupils very willing to learn and painstaking in their efforts. When the class was started some of them were able to speak hardly any English words, and some of them were unable to write in any language. Most of them are now able to read a page of English without difficulty. Those who know the German language make the most rapid progress as Mr. Roethie is familiar with that tongue and can readily make explanations in it. "The Greeks are the most difficult to instruct as their language bears little similarity to those of western Europe."

"That's How I Need You"

PRETTY EASTERN BALLAD SAID TO RIVAL "SILVER THREADS."

A new song, said to rival the fame of "Silver Threads Among the Gold," is the latest New York rage. It is rather different from the ordinary mauldin ballad, because there is a very pretty thought and some beauty in the words comparing a girl's affection to a mother's love. Here is a portion of the chorus:

That's How I Need You
Chorus. By FIANTADOSI
Like a broken heart needs gladness, Like the flow-ers need the dew, Like a ba-by needs its mother's love, That's how I need you.
By FIANTADOSI, San Francisco Copyright

Writers have committed many depredations in popular song writing but the avidity with which the above work is being taken up by the better class of singers demonstrates an advance in women's music. The song is out in several keys.

The Greeks, however, learn to write easily. Many of the pupils had learned to add and subtract in the schools of their native countries but had not learned to multiply. They show great interest in learning to write business forms such as checks, drafts, and notes, and appear very appreciative of the efforts made to instruct them.

Austin roller of more preferably to trade in toward a new roller, and that also a roller be purchased for use in the northeast section of the county, which has heretofore been deprived of the use of one, as the road rollers can be made of great service in the repair of roads already built and it is practically impossible to build even a gravel road that will present an even service when solidified, unless the road has been rolled after. Indeed, where much grading and filling is done, the road ought to be built until the subgrade has been rolled, in order to avoid unequal settling of the road after construction. It is particularly true no stone road can be built in first-class manner unless the roller can be on hand constantly during the construction of the road. If these purposes are to be accomplished Rock County needs the services of four road rollers. If the quality of the roads constructed are to be taken into consideration, your commissioner believes that within reasonable limits of expense, the well constructed road is the economical road to build, and the expense of purchase and operation of the necessary road rollers is trivial as compared with the total expense of all the roads, in construction, and in future maintenance.	$1,009 81

Many of the roads constructed in the past year are not completed. Particularly in the towns of Janesville, Porter, Magnolia, Johnston, Clinton and Center. Nearly all the 1912 roads will need more or less dressing over in the spring. In several of the towns the funds have not been nearly all expended, and unless the law is changed at this session of the legislature, upon the completion of the roads for which the allotments were made as set forth in the petitions these sums will revert back to the state, county and towns respectively. Therefore, it is well to extend the work in each town sufficiently to take the entire allotments.
Your commissioner recommends the following roads for acceptance, into the County Highway System:
All roads built prior to the year 1912 except the 1911 road in Town of Clinton or Bergen road, not smooth; 1910 road extending east from Munger's Corner on the Evansville and Oregon road, Town of Union, road rough and uneven, and drainage poor.
The 1908 road on the Footville and Janesville road, beginning about the center of the north side of Section 2 extending east 100 rods from the Town of Plymouth, this road includes a plank foot bridge. The 1909 and 1911 roads on that portion of the River Road known as Happy Hollow in the Town of Edgerton, material not binding. Also, the 1911 Afton road in the Town of Rock, which includes plank foot bridge. The 1908 and 1909 road on the Monroe road in the Town of Avon, repair work on bridges not completed. The 1909 road on the Milwaukee road west of the Town Hall in the Town of Turtle, this road includes a wooden culvert. The 1911 road on the Janesville-Magnolia road in the Town of Janesville, culvert road in the 1910 road of the Janesville and the 1910 road of the Janesville-Edgerton road, not properly shouldered. That portion of the 1908 road east of Thos. Ford's residence on Evansville-Fulton in Town of Porter.
Your commissioner regrets that these roads are not in a condition for acceptance, but recommends that the proper steps be taken to complete them in the ensuing year, as it will be difficult to do so, with several of them at least.
Recognizing the fact that the care and maintenance of the accepted roads is getting to be a bigger problem each succeeding year, and that in some instances the proper overhaul, and re-surfacing is a crying necessity and, also, recognizing the fact that the prime cause of many of the defects in the roads already constructed is due to lack of rolling at the proper time. Therefore, your commissioner recommends that the necessary steps be taken by this Board either to overhaul the old

Superintendent of more preferably to trade in toward a new roller, and that also a roller be purchased for use in the northeast section of the county, which has heretofore been deprived of the use of one, as the road rollers can be made of great service in the repair of roads already built and it is practically impossible to build even a gravel road that will present an even service when solidified, unless the road has been rolled after. Indeed, where much grading and filling is done, the road ought to be built until the subgrade has been rolled, in order to avoid unequal settling of the road after construction. It is particularly true no stone road can be built in first-class manner unless the roller can be on hand constantly during the construction of the road. If these purposes are to be accomplished Rock County needs the services of four road rollers. If the quality of the roads constructed are to be taken into consideration, your commissioner believes that within reasonable limits of expense, the well constructed road is the economical road to build, and the expense of purchase and operation of the necessary road rollers is trivial as compared with the total expense of all the roads, in construction, and in future maintenance.	$1,009 81

What'll Stop Sour Stomach

They Act Quick and Relief Is Almost Immediate.

There are some things so exactly light that to mention them brings calm and repose. And to use Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets gives the stomach just that kind of lift that makes you check up one hundred per cent to the good. Particularly is this true with those who suffer with sour stomach. You feel so mean that you actually hate yourself. And yet in a few minutes these tablets sweeten the stomach, arrest unnatural fermentation, start a powerful digestive action and prevent the formation of gas.

They are composed of only such ingredients as are approved by the very best of physicians. Real, genuine people want to be around where the activities of life embrace whatever circumstances dictate. If a house party serves a Welsh rabbit go to it. It isn't the easiest thing in the world to digest, 'tis true, but what of it? Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will take care of you. Keep your stomach in control and your dreams won't see an army of hobgoblins playing hobbs with your nose. Many physicians regularly prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for the stomach disorders of patients who are ill with some constitutional malady. They do so for the reason that these tablets are not a patent medicine and their composition is known and recognized as the most approved and most powerful of all digestants.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold and recommended by all druggists at 50c a box.

PARCEL POST HOW TO USE IT.

(The new parcel post law includes some perplexing provisions. The Gazette is from day to day presenting a concise explanation of some of the more important sections of the law.)

Parcel post packages marked "Fragile," or which from their form or appearance are liable to damage or breakage, will not be thrown from fast-moving trains. Special instructions have been issued by the postoffice department that such packages shall be handled outside of pouches and in special sacks or hampers, to which a red tag is attached labeled "Fragile—Handle With Care—U. S. Mail Parcel Post." Such packages will be delivered only from trains making regular stops at points where such matter is to be delivered, thereby insuring the greatest safety commensurate with speed.

The Gazette Parcel Post Map gives the zone limits, rates and all the provisions of the law. It is a good Geographical map of the United States and for a quick comprehension of the parcel post law is invaluable. This map is now on sale at 25 cents, if called for at the Gazette office, or 35 cents by mail. The map is FREE if you pay one year's subscription in advance to the Daily Gazette.

HUNTED BIG GAME IN AFRICAN WILDERNESS

PAUL J. RAINEY, WHOSE PICTURES ARE BEING SHOWN AT MYERS THEATRE, TELLS INTERESTING STORY.

PICTURES ARE GRAPHIC

Real, Genuine Hunting Party That Invaded the Back Continent in Search of Big Game for Camera and Rifle.

There is no more famous big game sportsman in America today, barring of course our mightiest hunter—than Paul J. Rainey, a young man of wealth who conquered the animals of the Far North before venturing into African jungles. Mr. Rainey equipped a costly expedition, and with J.

Rainey, Cartram and Elack, with the Paul J. Rainey African Hunt, at Myers Theatre for three days, commencing Monday, Feb. 24.

C. Hemmett, an expert photographer, who had previously accompanied him on his trips through the Arctic regions, and two big game hunters, penetrated the heart of the African continent—the wildest of all Africa—for the purpose of scientific exploration and the joy of hunting. Prof. Edmund Heller of the Smithsonian Institution, accompanied the expedition, to preserve specimens and to direct the trapping, when it was found desirable to capture the animals alive, and with Dr. M. E. Johnston of Lexington, Ky., made up the party.

The pictures Mr. Rainey brought back with him are the most remarkable actual wild game photographs that ever came out of the Dark Continent, many of them being taken at the risk of the camera operator's life. Some were taken while the animal was actually in the act of charging, or at a time when a poorly placed shot of an instant's delay meant death or maiming of the man behind the camera; others were snapped while some huge jungle beast, brought to bay by Mr. Rainey's Mississippi boar hounds, scarcely half a dozen yards away, snarled and clawed his dying defiance of the weapons of civilization.

The big rhino, a photograph of which is shown only received his final blow when a scant forty inches from the lens of the camera that later snapped his carcass. What might have happened had not Mr. Rainey's well aimed bullet had its effect at just this instant, is not difficult to surmise, but it is probable that the big beast's picture would never have been printed. It was lion hunting with camera and rifle, however, that most appealed to Mr. Rainey's love of good sport, and the seventy-four king of beasts that made up his bag well attest his prowess.

In physique Mr. Rainey is the ideal hunter. Lithe and agile as the great cat he has conquered, he stands six feet and over in his stockings without an ounce of superfluous flesh on him. His muscles are of steel and wire, and a glance into his cool gray eye demonstrates that his nerves are steady, ever under control. Preeminently, he is a man to be depended on in a crisis.

As evidence of this, the body of the dead lioness, whose photo is shown here surrounded by the dogs, who brought her to bay, bears mute witness. Let Mr. Rainey tell the story in his own words.

"Of all the experiences we had, that with a lioness was the most ticklish," said Mr. Rainey. "For ferocity a lioness has her mate beaten in a dozen ways. Our dogs picked up the scent and in full cry set off, all of us following as fast as we could. When we heard the hounds baying we knew that close work was at hand, so we made all haste to come up with the pack. We found a magnificent lioness at bay, giving battle as best she could with twenty dogs snapping at her haunches and nipping her wherever they could get a hold. She was in a fury and when she struck out with lightning-like sweeps of her paws, we thought surely our dogs would be crushed to death.

"J. C. Hemmett, who operated the moving picture machine for our expedition got his camera to work and was getting at the film, when the lioness bowed over several of the dogs and made straight for us. We were completely unawares, and when I called out that the bullet that I sent crashing through her lungs only dropped her within six feet of the camera, I am not exaggerating in the least. Never in my life had I seen any beast cover the distance intervening between the pack and our camera in the few leaps taken by that lioness. She was upon us almost before we noticed that she had escaped from the pack, and fortunately for all of us, I was standing by Hemmett's side with my rifle in my hand. Had I been compelled to pick up the gun preparatory to receiving the charge, it would have been all of us with us. That's a fair sample of what it means to be unprepared while hunting in the jungle, and it was a lesson I shall never forget."

Mr. Rainey, whose plan of hunting lions with American boar hounds was entirely unique and a wide departure from all previous methods, scouts the boasts of these big game hunters who held that killing the king of beasts is but tame true sport at best. "Many, many mighty hunters," said Mr. Rainey, "are prone to scoff at the dangers attending the lion hunting—that, of course, when they are safe within the confines of their own homes. Just why they should take this attitude I don't know. I have been a hunter for years, and I want to say that there are thrills aplenty in a day's stay in the jungle. Nor do I believe my experiences were a bit more thrilling than those of others. It is a case of being on the job every minute, and to kill lions successfully one must ever be on the offensive instead of the defensive. Relax your vigilance or aggressiveness one instant, and complications might arise much as I have just narrated which, before you could realize your existence, would then and there put an end to your future usefulness."

"When I made up my mind to hunt lions, I went on Mr. Rainey, of deer-hunters, went on a pack of boar hounds to help me. They are game, willing, quick of action, and have sense enough to keep out of the reach of their quarry at times when another breed of dog would be ripped to pieces. I had hunted everything worth hunting on North America and found them invaluable, and there seemed to be no reason why they shouldn't be just as valuable in an African jungle as in a Mississippi cane-brake, and they certainly made good although before we left Wombassa, when they were trained to follow the lion scent, I received a good deal of chaffing from the English residents, who thought the old methods of hunting the ruler of the jungle, the only ones.

All my dogs were picked with great care, and while the main pack consisted of boar hounds, I had others which were mongrels, in breed, but scoundrels of the most vicious sort. The latter, forming my auxiliary pack, bore the brunt of the battles with the lions and did the actual tackling, the others confining their work to picking up the trail, and running the beasts to cover. Those we would call off when we got the lion to close quarters, and then unless the mongrels who would plunge into the fray and tackle the king of beasts with the ferocity of bulldogs.

"The impression seems to prevail," continued Mr. Rainey, "that we pursued lions to their lairs without guns and rifles, depending alone on the dogs. That's absurd. No one but a fool would think of doing such a thing. As I said before, we used the boar hounds to trail the beasts, then set the fighters upon them, and when the psychological moment arrived, one of the party would dispatch the quarry with a bullet. It's true that our dogs gave the lions the fight of their lives, but in no instance did we allow the battle to progress sufficiently far to ascertain whether or not the dogs would kill the lions unaided. We simply demonstrated the usefulness of dogs in trailing and tracking the hunting the ruler of the jungle, the game.

"And that was enough. It was an innovation in jungle sport for which we were roundly ridiculed by veteran hunters when they were told about our expedition, but we showed them where they were wrong.

"Next to lion hunting, bagging the cheetah, or hunting leopard was the best sport in Mr. Rainey's opinion, for here the dogs were given their full chance. In one morning the pack brought three of these splendid creatures down, but were prevented from tearing them to pieces as their skins were desired for specimen case.

"We got quite a number of these leopards," said Mr. Rainey, "and in every instance we let the dogs finish the job. They never failed, and the fighters of the pack would literally tear the little beasts to pieces before they would let go. Of course a leopard puts up a mighty game fight, for a time, and cuts and fights with tooth and nail. But our dogs sailed into them without hesitancy, and never failed to come out the victors."

Mr. Rainey declares that the taming of all sports is elephant hunting. His expedition only bagged one pachyderm, and that was quite enough he avers. "For the tamest of all sports," said he, "I would just as soon fire at a barn door, and don't think it would be a bit more exciting. The great, big, lumbering beast presents a target so easy that even a novice could not fail to bring him down. I can understand why pot hunters go after them for the ivory obtained representative of a tidy sum. But we weren't hunting for profit—we wanted only sport—and there is about as much sport shooting elephants as in wringing the neck of a chicken."

Rhinoceros, however, afforded the party many thrills, and that character of sport especially appeals to Mr. Rainey.

"We got several fine specimens of that sport," he said, "and got good sport with them. A rhinoceros is an angry customer any way you take him, and one has to shoot pretty straight at times if he has any regard for his own skin and the hide of his dogs. A charging rhino is not a pleasant nor a comfortable object to behold, and when he gets within range the hunter wants a good gun and backed by a keen eye to bag him before he gets close enough to do damage. Their strength is prodigious, and second only to their ferocity when cornered or aroused.

"One came very near getting me on one occasion, and but for a tremendously high-powered gun I had close at hand, I think he would have had me dangling at the point of his tusk. The dogs had put him up and he was standing them off pretty successfully when we approached. We believed that his entire attention was concentrated on the dogs and that he was paying little attention to us, but indeed we were mistaken, for as quick as a flash, the pig-eyed brute made a dash for us. He was within a few feet of us when I dropped him. No hunter can bag more than two rhinoceroses on his hunter's license, so we contented ourselves by keeping within the limit of the law. All of those killed by our party were magnificent specimens, and each gave us a pretty good fight before he was shot. Another of the numbers killed also changed the hunters after breaking through the pack. It took several shots to dispatch him as my first shot only grazed him and the pain made him as vicious as a tiger.

"As he came crashing through the brush I gave him a second bullet which only infuriated him the more. He came so close to me that I had to leap aside to dodge him and he made straight for another of the party and his native gun-carriers, sending both scuttling up a tree for safety. My third shot did the work, however, and he fell a quivering mass of spent fury."

EDGERTON G. A. R. AT ANNUAL CAMPFIRE

Large Attendance at Supper and Program Given Last Evening at Royal Hall—Other News.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Edgerton, Feb. 26.—The annual campfire of the G. A. R. held at Royal Hall last evening was a grand success, the receipts of the evening being over ninety dollars. The ladies of the W. R. C. and members of the G. A. R. are very grateful to the citizens of Edgerton for their generous support. The table capacity was very much smaller this year on account of the new addition, to the hall, of the new opera seats, but the committee in charge made it as roomy as possible, and those that partook of the supper procured from the different booths were very well pleased. The program of the evening was carried out as advertised, with the exception of the violin solo by Miss Kathleen Cullen. The poor appearance of Miss Cullen was due to sickness. Every number on the program was well received by the audience, although the crowd was held a little later than usual on account of the late arrival of F. A. Kramer, the speaker, whose train was two hours late. Mr. Kramer's address was very fine. He is a very fluent speaker, and was greatly applauded. The members of the W. R. C. and G. A. R. are to be congratulated on the success of their campfire. Mrs. A. Lee of Milton, visited Mrs. Sparks at the home of Miss Florence Child yesterday, and also came as a guest at the campfire.

New Grand Central Terminal The Heart of New York City

THE interior of the New York Central Lines' new Terminal, just opened in New York City and dedicated to the Public Service—is a marvel in size and compactness, beauty and utility, comfort and convenience—a terminal larger than and different from any other in the world.

Broad inclined walks take the place of stairs—the distance from street to train is a short, easy walk.

Standing at the center entrance on 42nd Street you can see The Twentieth Century Limited, across the waiting room and concourse.

The movement of the traveler is a progressive one, the ticket windows coming first, the Pullman windows next, the baggage office third, then your train.

There are no steps to retrace, no time lost, passengers proceeding direct from waiting room or concourse to train platforms.

There are two great concourses, each 300 by 120 feet, one for through passengers and the other for suburban passengers.

The tracks on two levels within the terminal aggregate 33 miles. Forty-nine acres are devoted to through traffic and thirty acres to suburban traffic.

Thirty thousand people may be comfortably accommodated in this terminal at one time. Over twenty million will use it in a year, indeed it is planned to accommodate a hundred million people annually.

All trains entering and departing from the Terminal are drawn by electric motors—no smoke, no noise, no dust, no soot.

Train platforms are broad, and level with car floors; no steps to climb, or descend.

For the comfort and needs of women, there are private rest rooms and waiting rooms with maids in attendance, toilet rooms, manicure and hair dressing rooms, and shops—all within the terminal.

Surrounding the Terminal is building a new civic center, embracing convention, amusement and exhibition halls, hotels, clubs, and restaurants, post office, express offices, modern office and apartment buildings and numerous stores and specialty shops.

The new Grand Central Terminal is located in the heart of New York, and is the only station on all lines of local traffic—the subway, the surface and the elevated. More than 7,000 cars pass its doors every day, affording easy transit facilities to the furthestmost part of New York City and suburbs. Within a radius of a few blocks are 49 hotels, 58 clubs and 35 theatres.

Plan your next trip East over the Water-level Route of the New York Central Lines. Enjoy three hours along the Hudson, and reach the heart of New York through this remarkable Terminal.

DECIDE ON DUTIES OF FAIR MANAGERS

At Recent Meeting of Rock County Fair Directors Superintendents' Work is Outlined.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Evansville, Feb. 26.—At the last regular meeting of the Rock County Fair Directors, the duties of the various superintendents were assigned to them and a new set of regulations made.

It was decided that the board of directors should have entire charge of the affairs of the association, not otherwise provided for in the by-laws. They shall appoint a committee of three to audit all accounts and bills against the association, or for it, and have a complete charge of all disbursements incidental to the management.

The superintendent of grounds is to have complete charge of grounds and buildings of the association, see that the buildings and fences are kept in proper repair, that they be put in proper repair before the opening of the fair each year and that he shall have general supervision over the fair property. He shall be purchasing agent of the association and keep an accurate account of all articles purchased, and file a duplicate bill with secretary. He must O. K. all bills and no bills are to be paid without his approval.

The superintendent of grounds and buildings shall appoint a marshal, who shall be held responsible for the policing of the grounds during the fair. He is to receive all orders from the superintendent of grounds and buildings.

Founded 1870.
Geo. L. Pullen, Pres.

perintendent of grounds and buildings, and shall perform any and all duties required of him by superintendent and have a general supervision of policing the grounds under the orders of the superintendent of grounds.

Superintendents of live stock or their assistants shall be on grounds constantly, beginning on the day preceding the opening of the fair until all exhibits are in place. They shall have complete charge of space all noted to their departments and shall have full control of said space and the renting thereof and will be held personally responsible for rental, which is to be collected by them and returned to secretary.

There shall be a superintendent of gates who under the direction of board of directors, shall have full control of the gates, selecting his assistants.

Superintendents and their assistants shall be on the grounds from 7 a. m. until 6 p. m. beginning the day preceding the fair and continue until fair is closed and exhibitions removed. They shall see that all exhibits are entered in their respective departments and properly labeled. They are to assist the judges in every way and shall select judges for their several departments and will be held responsible therefor.

Superintendents shall receive $2.00 per day for services and except the superintendents of gates, shall pay such assistants, out of allowance hereto made.

All inquiries for stalls, pens, etc., are to be referred to the superintendent of the various departments.

Superintendents of several departments, shall classify all exhibits and all matters pertaining to other departments shall be referred to them and their decision shall be final.

This is the first opportunity the directors have given the public an opportunity to know the real duties of the various superintendents. It is certain that under the new management the duties of superintendents are anything but a "graft" as is commonly supposed. The directors are certainly going after the thing early this year and in the right spirit.

GETTING AHEAD OF TIME.

DO YOU think we bustling people of the twentieth century will ever get ahead of time?

We seem to be trying so hard to do it that I sometimes think we will succeed.

Once upon a time, when bargain sales first became common, the shops held their sales of winter goods toward the last of February, just before their spring openings in March. What chance would a shop that put off its winter bargain sales until the last of February, and its spring opening until March, have now-a-days? None whatever. January sees the tidiest of the sales over. By February, at the latest, the shops are advertising summer styles. Many shops, indeed, commence the sales at which they get rid of their winter goods the very day after Christmas. Think of it! December 26th! Not quite one month of winter gone!

I asked the saleslady at one of these December sales if they would have a later sale. "Oh, no, indeed," she answered laughingly and with an evasive scorn. "We get in our spring and summer goods next week."

Some witty person has announced that the difference between the rich and poor is that the former buy their spring clothes in winter and the latter buy them in the summer. Apparently, both will soon be buying them in the summer, only with the rich it will be the summer before.

The assiduity with which our magazines are trying to get ahead of time, is another interesting thing. There was a time, back in the dark ages, when the magazines for any month were published from the 1st to the 15th of that month. "It is not now as it hath been of yore," I doubt if at the present day there is a single magazine, even the most conservative, published during the month whose name it bears. The first step in trying to get ahead of time was to publish the January magazine during the last of December; next, the 15th of the preceding month became the proper date, and there is at least one enterprising magazine that publishes its January issue on the 10th of December.

I wonder how long it will be before January magazines will be published in November?

And as for newspapers, the frantic way in which they struggle to get ahead of time is such an old story that we have come not to notice it at all. Every business man expects to get the five o'clock edition with his noon day lunch, and the ten o'clock to take home to dinner on his five-thirty train, and would feel cheated with anything less up-to-date.

And now, if we ever get sufficiently caught up with time to have a moment to spare, I do hope we will stop and think what we are getting out of it by trying to have summer in winter, February in January, and other things in proportion.

After all, what's the point?

How Are You Being Dominated?

ISN'T it strange," said the clubwoman to her friend, as the two sat waiting for the speaker of the afternoon to appear. "That a woman who really is not a strong personality can dominate others to their injury?"

"But I shouldn't think she could," replied the other. "To dominate, one must be really positive."

"You would think so, and that's what makes Mrs. Gillespie's influence over those in her home such a puzzle to me. The rest of the family are really positive, forceful people; yet they are all under her thumb."

"She's the last person I would think would have much influence. She seems so neutral."

"That's what I have always thought. But if you were there in that home for a while, as I have been lately, you would soon change your mind. She is, apparently, the colorless, negative person, we have both thought her, and yet she dominates."

"If her sister wants to buy something," the speaker went on, "or wants to go to some entertainment, Mrs. Gillespie is always on hand with objections. As a result, her sister goes without what she wants, and gives up her amusement. She has them all cowed on the subject of spending money. It's an honest fact if they want to get themselves something, they sneak off and buy it, and never say a word about it. And she is not shrewish or anything of that sort. It is just a way she has of objecting, until they give in."

"And if any of them or a neighbor, even, happens to say something nice about a friend or an acquaintance, she always is ready with some unfavorable criticism. And if she hasn't any definite thing to bring forward, she shrugs her shoulders and says, 'Well, I don't know'—and looks as if she could tell volumes. When the fact of the matter is, she hasn't anything disagreeable to tell, or wild horses couldn't keep her from telling it. And she's actually got that whole family in the habit of saying unkind things about people and looking for the worst."

"They ought not to let her influence them that way."

"They seem to be unconscious of it. You might think they were hypnotized."

"I guess they are, in a way. All of us can become hypnotized, figuratively speaking. If we do not assert ourselves when others try to impose opinions on us with which we don't agree. If we meekly yield for the sake of avoiding argument, the first thing we know they'll be dominating us, even if they are not as forceful as we. There comes the speaker."

And then the two settled themselves to hear the lecture of the afternoon.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Two Lenten Soups.

Peanut Soup.—Two cups milk, one tablespoon butter, one tablespoon flour, one teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup shelled roasted peanuts. Melt butter, add flour, heat ground peanuts in milk; strain and add milk slowly to butter and flour. Cook till thickened, stirring constantly. All measures are level. Recipe makes generous serving for two; may be increased proportionately.

Scotch Potato Soup.—Two quarts water, one small onion cut fine, slice of salt pork, six medium-sized potatoes. Boil all together two hours, then strain and add pepper, salt, celery salt and half cup sweet cream. Serve hot with wafers.

The Table.

Spareribs With Dressing. (fine). Two loaves of bread, break into pieces, pour a little cold water over and let stand. Take four large onions, cut fine, put into pan with large piece of butter, set on back of stove so butter will melt. Then mix bread good (with hands), add two eggs, sage, salt, pepper, onion and butter. Take large baking pan, lay in one long strip of spareribs, put dressing on it and cover with another long strip of spareribs. Fill pan nearly full of hot water and bake in oven till done.

Dainty Salmon Dish.—One gets tired of cold canned salmon but it will prove a dainty dish if the following recipe is used: One 25c can of salmon, one full cup coarse rolled crackers, one full teaspoon butter, two tablespoons flour, and 1½ cups of milk. Pick bone, fat and skin free from salt.

The KITCHEN CABINET

LET us beware of losing our enthusiasm.

Let us ever glory in something and strive to attain our admiration for it that would ennoble, and our interest in it that would enrich and beautify our life.

COLLECTION OF PUDDINGS.

During the winter months puddings that are rich and hearty may be served with greater frequency than in the warm weather.

Golden Pudding.—Add to a half cup of molasses a half cup of butter, a half cup of sour milk and one and a half cups of flour, one egg well beaten, a pinch of salt and one-half teaspoonful of soda; mix, and beat well and steam two hours.

Serve with this the following sauce: One egg, half a cup of butter, one cup of sugar, two tablespoons of flour and a pint of boiling water. Flavor with either lemon or vanilla.

An egg sauce would be good with the above pudding. Beat two eggs well, add a cup of milk, a fourth of a cup of sugar, and flavor to taste.

Baked Indian Pudding.—Scald a quart of milk; stir in three-fourths of a cup of corn meal. Cook well; add a third of a cup of molasses, a pinch of salt. Beat two eggs, add a cup of cold milk to them, and pour into the pudding. Add a few raisins, stir occasionally the first half hour. Bake two hours.

Fruit Dumplings.—To a quart of flour add two teaspoons of baking powder, a tablespoonful of sugar and half a teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoons of butter, two eggs and enough milk to make a mixture to roll. Roll out and cut in squares, place a pear or apple or peach in each square, bring the corners together; on top of each place a bit of butter and a dash of cinnamon with a sprinkling of sugar. Pour into the pan a cup of hot water. Bake until well browned and serve with cream and sugar.

Pour a rich powder biscuit batter over peaches in a deep dish and bake. Turn so that the peaches are on top. Heap with sweetened whipped cream and serve.

(10)—What's the matter with a man when the girls don't want to go with him? (11)—Will a girl go with a last fellow? (12)—If a man takes a girl out walking once and never calls on her again, what is the reason? (13)—Is "Snubs" a nice name for a boy?

(14)—How is the name "Peanuts" for a young lady? (15)—Is the word "Bully" nice for a young lady to say? (16)—Is it very nice for a man to wink at a lady when she walks along the street? BASHFUL YANKER.

(17)—Early enough to get eight hours sleep. (18)—She will be glad to see him and always be pleasant to him. (19)—No. (20)—No; unless he is engaged to marry her. (21)—He will want to be with her a great deal, give her little presents, take her out to amusements, consider her feelings and make things pleasant for her. (22)—He hasn't much sense until he is 25.

(23)—As often as he can. Once a week, anyway. (24)—Say to her: "May I see you home, Miss Jones?" (25)—Yes, (26)—He may be a tightwad, or a grouchy, or jealous or selfish, or he may know how to talk about interesting things or how to dress neatly. (27)—Nice girls won't. (28)—He probably doesn't care to go again. (29)—Not so bad. (30)—Not very nice. (31)—No. (32)—No; at all. I hope you don't do it.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a married man and love another man's wife, and my wife loves another man's. What should I do about it? JOHN R. Neither of us is in love with anybody, but SELF.

Domestic Science DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Gitchell Kirk

boiling water over the dates, wipe and remove seeds and put one in each hole in the apple, sprinkle over the sugar, cinnamon and divide the butter over all the apples. Pour in enough hot water to come up on the sides about two inches. Set over the fire and cook until tender. When done remove to a dish, cook the syrup five minutes longer and pour over. Pigs or raisins and nuts may be used instead of dates.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

URIC ACID IN TEA AND COFFEE.

Vegetarians who exclude flesh meat from their dietary on the assumption that they are eliminating the principal source of uric acid (which is an essential factor in the cause of rheumatism) yet continue the use of tea or coffee, may be surprised to learn that while flesh contains from 3 to 7 grains of uric acid, coffee contains 70 grains, and tea 170 grains, per pound, and that as Dr. Williams, of England, points out, the Hindu and other vegetarians are not immune to cancer, while the cannibals and the Eskimo are immune. The exclusion of meat is the most important improvement that can be made in the average dietary, but the holier-than-thou air of the average vegetarian who continues to use tea or coffee or mixes incompatible foods indiscriminately is unwarrantable.

1—Remove all the garbage to its proper place and have the dishes all of one kind in one place ready to begin the washing.

2—Have a pan for washing, one for rinsing, and if possible, a draining tray to set into it. The dishes require very little drying.

3—Have plenty of hot water. Use Ivory soap in a shaker. Never leave it in the pan.

4—Use clean, dry towels. Rinse out every time after using them and hang up to dry.

5—Use clean dish mops or dish cloths. There are good paper ones for sale, which last a week.

6—Wash glasses, silver cups and saucers, pitchers, plates, vegetable dishes and platters in the order given.

7—Handle the dishes as far as possible with towel.

8—Use a coarse towel and separate cloth for pots and pans. Many good housekeepers wash all these first and put them away before beginning their dishes. I think it a very good way.

9—Have a place for everything and put everything in its place, not sometimes, but all the time.

10—Wash and scour the dish pans, table and sink after everything else is done and put away and wipe the faucets.

11—Always have a clean stove. Lemon oil rubbed on occasionally will keep it from rusting. Sapon put on once a month will make it look like aluminum and is very clean and bright looking and I much prefer it to a black stove in the kitchen.

12—When ready to leave the kitchen it should not only be clean but as attractive as any room in the house.

Coddled Apples.

Materials—Apples 5, dates 6, granulated sugar 1-2 C, butter 1 tsp, cinnamon 1-4 tsp.

Utensils—Covered sauce pan, measuring cup, teaspoon, apple corer.

Directions—Select Jonathan or greening apples of the same size and wash, core and set them in the sauce pan or kettle large enough to allow them all to sit in the bottom. Pour

Do your duty as a husband and do your duty to God by being a straight, clean-minded man. If you will treat your wife right she will probably be a good wife to you and forget about any other man.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—I am a girl of 18 and in love with a young man whom I met a short while ago at a dance. When I go to a dance he always asks me for a dance and when I dance with some one else he always watches me closely. What do you suppose he means? (2)—How can I show him I like him without telling him? (3)—On what finger should the engagement ring be worn?

BLANCHE.

(1)—He probably is interested in you. (2)—Just be pleasant and modest and sweet. A girl can do more than that and a good man expects no more than that. (3)—The third of the left hand.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1)—There are no eligible young men in our home town. Would it be proper to keep company with young men from a neighboring town if they are nice, respectable boys? (2)—If a young man calls and we are not at home, should we ask him about it and beg his pardon for not being home?

(3)—What do you think of a young man who does not keep his dates? (4)—What would you do if you were going with a young man and he called only when he felt inclined to, and went with other girls, then got sore when you went with other boys?

INNOCENT CHUMS.

(1)—Yes. (2)—Certainly not. If you happen to see him, tell him you were sorry he chose a time when you were not home, and to try again. (3)—He is not very trustworthy. (4)—I think I would gently drop him.

W H E N your cook-book says "chocolate" substitute Rona Dutch Cocoa. You will find it more delightful in flavor—easier to prepare—and much more economical.

Cheaper than coffee for drinking—better than chocolate for cooking—and far more healthful than either coffee or chocolate. Try it—and be convinced.

PRACTICAL FROCK OF BEIGE SERGE

Here is a practical frock of beige serge. The very novel yoke is made out of white batiste and opens in a V at the neck and the upper edge rolls over. Novelty buttons trim the tabs of the waist and the front of the skirt. Similar buttons are set along the fitted forearm of the sleeves. The sleeves are puffed above the elbow. The skirt is draped at the left side, the material being caught beneath the rent and back of the one-sided tunic.

Headache?—It's Your Liver.

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic Is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—the Substitute for Calomel.

Anyone who takes Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets the moment he suspects his liver or bowels will never have headache. There is no necessity when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, gripping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel. Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar-coated, easy to take, and never gripe or cause weakness. Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly. "Every little Olive Tablet has a movement all its own." 10c and 25c per box.

Again to the Property Owner

Did you do as we suggested here yesterday? Did you instruct your agent to, or phone your own "property for sale" ad, to appear in these columns today? Is your property listed here?

A copy of this newspaper, these real estate columns, is in the hands of over six thousand other men today, and that's over four thousand more than your property ad could reach through any other Janesville daily newspaper.

If neither you nor your agent has listed your property in these columns, think of the fine chances to secure buyers that you have neglected.

It's too late to reach these people through today's Gazette, but think of tomorrow.

Call The Gazette, or call your agent and tell him to hurry an ad to The Gazette in time for these columns tomorrow.

Intending buyers are watching these columns. Maybe they are looking for a property just like the one you want to sell.

Wise owners, active dealers, will have some kind of property listed here tomorrow.

Will yours be here?
